Preliminary remarks:

This is the sixth report of the bankruptcy receivers of BDO. For a brief explanation of the (procedural) background of BDO's bankruptcy, reference is made to the first four public bankruptcy reports.

One of the bankruptcy receivers, mr. C.M. van Liere, stepped down as bankruptcy receiver of BDO on November 2, 2020.

In the meantime, a provisional creditors' committee has been formed, consisting of mr. H.W. Braam, mr. M. Murray and Mr. R. Moscarella, who together represent large part of the creditors.

Partly due to COVID-19, the negotiations between the bankruptcy receiver and (the attorney of) the principals of BDO on a composition with creditors have been delayed. Parties are still discussing a final MOU and, meanwhile, have agreed on the outlines of and/or a blueprint for such a composition.

From the discussions between the bankruptcy receiver and the principals of BDO the following has emerged, among other things: according to the principals of BDO, 80% of the account holders of BDO have agreed to a transfer of their claim to BOI Bank in Antigua (a bank that belongs to the same group of companies as BDO). This would imply that, instead of being a creditor of BDO, this group of account holders would agree to become an account holder and creditor of BOI Bank for the same amount while discharging BDO, and that BOI Bank would agree to take over these debts from BDO while discharging BDO.

The remaining 20% of the BDO account holders who do not wish to exchange their claim for a claim on BOI Bank would then be paid 100% through the bankruptcy receiver, just like the other BDO creditors who are not account holders, as well as all the bankruptcy costs.

At this moment, the discussions mainly concern the way in which the verification process, the management of the bond portfolio and the further financing of the estate settlement should take place.

If and insofar as parties reach agreement, the principals of BDO would like to file a draft composition with the Court of First Instance of Curaçao on a date to be agreed on. The bankruptcy receiver will continue to keep the creditors informed of further developments.

The bankruptcy costs of BDO already incurred to date currently exceed the existing assets of BDO. The bankruptcy receiver has requested the principals of BDO to finance the further settlement of the estate of BDO from the proceeds of the bond portfolio. A response to this request is expected shortly.

The bankruptcy receiver emphasizes that the information contained in this report is still subject to further investigation. At a later stage, it may become apparent that this information needs to be adjusted. At this time, no statement can be made concerning the completeness and accuracy of the data contained in this report. No rights can be derived from this bankruptcy report and/or any subsequent reports. Nothing in this report should be interpreted as an acknowledgement of liability or as a waiver of any rights. In this report, the bankruptcy receivers give a simplified account of the current state of affairs in accordance with the bankruptcy and moratorium reporting guidelines applicable in Curaçao.

The report will be published on www.ekvandoorne.com.

Other assets

3.12. Description:

At present, it is unclear whether BDO actually has liquid funds and securities/bonds to cover its obligations. The majority of that coverage, namely more than ANG 2.4 billion, would exist of securities and bonds that, according to BDO, are held by the custodians Farrington from Singapore, Vistra International S.A. from Panama and Welden Securities from Uruguay. In the run-up to and during the emergency regulations, an investigation was conducted by or on behalf of the Central Bank and BDO's former accountant KPMG in Curaçao into these custodians and the securities portfolios held by them according to BDO. Also, the bankruptcy receivers approached the custodians concerned and requested clarification.

After BDO's bankruptcy, the bankruptcy receiver found four bank accounts held by BDO at MCB and two accounts held by BDO at Novo Banco, S.A. The balances found at these banks amount to USD 77,232.17 and USD 244,634.18, respectively. At the request of the bankruptcy receiver, these amounts have been transferred to BDO's estate account, meanwhile.

For the rest, BDO's bankruptcy has no assets other than the bond portfolios held by the custodians.

In the past reporting period, the bankruptcy receivers were not able to obtain a definite answer about the existence, scope and control of the securities portfolios. As regards the ongoing negotiations and the MOU, please refer to the preliminary remarks in this report.

The attorney of BDO's shareholders has informed the bankruptcy receiver that his clients have now requested aforementioned custodians to send an overview of the portfolio held and managed by the custodians on behalf of BDO and the developments in that portfolio from September 2019 to date. This overview and this information are expected shortly.

3.13. Sales proceeds : Not applicable

Activities : See above.

4. Debtors

Scope debtors :

BDO has claims on the following parties:

- the company affiliated to BDO, Plus Capital Markets (“PCM”) in Panama, (term loan) of USD 12,903,000 (as of April 30, 2019); the Panamanian supervisor has also taken measures against Plus Capital by appointing a liquidator; for BDO’s position vis-à-vis PCM, please refer to paragraph 5 “Banks / securities”. BDO possibly has security rights on assets of Plus Capital Markets to cover this/these claim(s).

- Cipresco Company Group: a credit of USD 620,000. Again, securities would have been provided to BDO.

- Agricola Agrocao C.A.: a credit of USD 190,000.

- Gavides Omar: a credit of USD 160,800.

The bankruptcy receivers still need to further assess the realism and collectability of BDO’s claims on these third parties, including any security rights and set-off positions. The last three debtors are domiciled in Venezuela, which will make collectability very difficult.

4.1. Proceeds : TBD.

4.2. Contribution to the estate : Not applicable

5. Banks / securities

Claims from/on bank(s)

The bankruptcy receivers still need to further assess the possible claims from/on BDO on/from banks, affiliated or not, including any security rights and set-off positions. For the time being, it concerns the following banks:

Novo Banco S.A.

Novo Banco S.A. in Portugal has confirmed that, on September 5, 2019, BDO maintained two accounts with credit balances of USD 60,592.33 and EUR 154.296,15, respectively. Meanwhile, Novo Banco has transferred these balances to the estate accounts. Meanwhile, these amounts have been used to pay the bankruptcy costs.

Allbank Corp

As of November 8, 2019, the company affiliated to BDO and based in Panama, Allbank, is being wound up. Allbank's liquidator informed the bankruptcy receivers of several securities with a total nominal value of USD 30,605,000.00. A number of these securities have matured since the bankruptcy date.

Plus Capital Markets Ltd.

PCM is also an entity affiliated to BDO, which, on the one hand, independently maintained accounts with BDO and, on the other, maintained financial relationships ("brokerage clients") on behalf of its own clients. PCM reported (third-party) claims on BDO amounting to USD 1,617,590.00. Subsequently, the bankruptcy receivers requested clarification of certain aspects (also as regards the third-party claims). By mid-May 2020, the Panamanian supervisor ("La Superintendencia del Mercado de Valores de Panamá") ordered PCM's winding-up proceedings and appointed a liquidator. The bankruptcy receivers have notified the liquidator.

7. Legitimacy

- 7.1. Accounting obligation : Immediately after the decision on the emergency regulations, the CBCS secured the (digital) records of BDO with the assistance of a specialized third party. Meanwhile, a transfer has taken place between the CBCS and the bankruptcy receivers, as well as this third party. The bankruptcy receivers expect to gain further insight into and access to the (digital) records of BDO in the short term. Given the nationwide power outage in Curaçao in mid-November 2019, BDO’s digital records may have been lost at this third party. The bankruptcy receivers have entered into conversations with another party to make new digital prints of BDO's records.

During the past reporting period, the bankruptcy receiver the relevant data of BDO's digital bank records (IBS Core Banking program) from Panama. It concerns information about accounts, account holders and contacts.

- 7.2. Payment obligation : In view of the date of incorporation of BDO, a (possible) claim based on this is prescribed.
- 7.3. Mismanagement : Under investigation.
- 7.4. Fraudulent acts : Under investigation.

8. Creditors

Immediately after BDO was declared bankrupt, the bankruptcy receivers gave publicity to the bankruptcy and requested the deposit holders and other creditors of BDO to present their claims for verification. For this purpose, advertisements were published in the (local) newspapers, and a (Spanish) notification was placed on the website of BDO, among other things. The specially created email address creditors.bdo@ekvandoorne.com is used for presenting claims.

- 8.1. Estate claims :
 - Bankruptcy costs (determined until February 26, 2020): ANG 430,697.36 + TDB.
 - Rent due after bankruptcy date: ANG 66,780 (in respect of the months of October 2019 through January 2020).
